It's a Nonlinear World (Springer Undergraduate Texts in Mathematics and Technology) Richard H. Enns

Drawing examples from mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, engineering, economics, medicine, politics, and sports, this book illustrates how nonlinear dynamics plays a vital role in our world. Examples cover a wide range from the spread and possible control of communicable diseases, to the lack of predictability in long-range weather forecasting, to competition between political groups and nations.

After an introductory chapter that explores what it means to be nonlinear, the book covers the mathematical concepts such as limit cycles, fractals, chaos, bifurcations, and solitons, that will be applied throughout the book. Numerous computer simulations and exercises allow students to explore topics in greater depth using the Maple computer algebra system. The mathematical level of the text assumes prior exposure to ordinary differential equations and familiarity with the wave and diffusion equations. No prior knowledge of Maple is assumed.

The book may be used at the undergraduate or graduate level to prepare science and engineering students for problems in the "real world", or for self-study by practicing scientists and engineers.

When you read this It's a Nonlinear World (Springer Undergraduate Texts in Mathematics and Technology), you can tells your family, friends in addition to soon about yours publication. Your knowledge can inspire others, make them reading a publication.

Enrique Flora:

Reading can called brain hangout, why? Because when you are reading a book specifically book entitled It's a Nonlinear World (Springer Undergraduate Texts in Mathematics and Technology) your mind will drift away trough every dimension, wandering in each and every aspect that maybe unidentified for but surely will become your mind friends. Imaging every single word written in a publication then become one contact form conclusion and explanation that will maybe you never get just before. The It's a Nonlinear World (Springer Undergraduate Texts in Mathematics and Technology) giving you one more experience more than blown away your brain but also giving you useful info for your better life in this particular era. So now let us teach you the relaxing pattern the following is your body and mind will probably be pleased when you are finished examining it, like winning a sport.
