The Last Little Citadel: American High Schools Since 1940 (Study of High Schools) Robert L. Hampel
A third report from a Study of High Schools, co-sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and the National Association of Independent Schools. Robert Hampel describes the sweeping transformation of secondary school education that occurred over the forty-five years prior to his publishing this book in 1986. How it all changed, from a regimented institution where formal manners prevailed and fun was extracurricular--the world of "the last little citadel"--to the laissez-faire campuses of today, is the focus of this book. It is a fascinating piece of social and intellectual history. 208 pages with Sources, Notes and Index. 9.25 x 6.25 inches. Houghton Mifflin, Boston MA 1986.
